So The USA is pretty fucked atm. Looking for more info on this boys. Nuclear Stockpile hacked, Boeing hacked, all kinds of Military Infrastructure and places that produce it got hit

"Grave, grave attack on the United States."

"Department of Homeland Security has no capacity to stop it."

Are anons even Aware of this shit and how bad it is? Help Spread this info boys.
This is an act of war. It is VERY widespread and you can't just "cut the wire" on this because those system won't operate looking for diggers and not niggers boys, get in here.
I barely know shit right now, but from what I am hearing it is massive fuckery!!!

CCP members have infiltrated every aspect of the US, from healthcare, universities, to government. Furthermore, following the money leads you to Chinese funding of democrats and republicans pushing for the ITS OVER narrative. In addition, CCP database leak shows many governors who worked with CCP members and potentially took bribes from them. Also lots of highly unusual military planes activity across the US since Election Day. Seems like something big is gonna happen on January 6th.

Who are we at war with right now?
who wants to become the new dominator of the world?

Russia Russia Russia is too obvious, they shill that shit all the time. I am not buying it.

Russia is also someone china wants to take out, or would take on without the USA being able to help them out
China wants Eastern Russia, all that land and space and resources and with all the deepstate tyranny over covid, this seems like a part of that to cripple the USA, shut shit down and blame it on this, blame Russia as cover and things start going dark and we are unable to talk to each other over the net, like we are right now the great reset has already started, just shut shit down, close businesses, make people desperate, poor , scared and make things so bad that big brothers steps in as long as you follow the rules! you wont starve but it is literally the start of the slave state

That truth is the US and Israel have such sophisticated malware that they are perpetually inside of Russia's and China's systems. This SolarWinds news is unnecessarily stirring the pot and pretending that cyber security defense is something more than a series of inconveniences for your enemy.

To give you an idea, 0-Day (exploits that people are not aware exist) are constantly discovered and bought up by the US government. The US government doesn't reveal these 0-Days to software or hardware makers until they get wind of someone else using them. Then they reveal the issue and let it get patched. Until it's patched, they use it. Law enforcement has these tools too. Remember when the FBI cracked into an iPhone without forcing Apple to help? Even shitty nation states buy this stuff. Turkish intelligence had all sorts exploits that confirmed Khashoggi was murdered.

So don't be surprised that Russian's hacked American's. With the money and scope the American intelligence services has, the Russians were probably honeypotted and fed back false information.

>"The nuclear stockpile hacked".

No, Microsoft just outed the root kit they owned so they could investigate it and tell the government that it wasn't them and to provide cover for when any one of the missing soviet warheads and fissile material goes bang stateside. Your gay false flag conditioning is obvious and weak, try reddit or Facebook.

If it looks like Russia it's probably Israel, the country with the biggest interest in hurting Russia.

Origin of cyber attacks is very easy to fake and Wikileaks already leaked the tools used to do exactly that.
